

Individual Diverse Global Distinct
Artists who champion good causes

Ana Salopek was born in Ogulin, Croatia, where she currently lives and creates illustrations. She is awarded illustrator in love with visual storytelling, animated movies and writing her own stories. Her works have been featured in many exhibitions at home and abroad. She randomly signs her work by her real name, Ana Salopek, or by the pseudonym gospodica Ura / miss Clock. She is fascinated by clockwork and time, believing that time done note exists. loudly drawing and silently writing she is the ambassador of the trees and the old ways. Her illustrations cover a wide range of topics - ecology, human values, and emotional expressions of the world around us; she takes word play literally and visually represents it by moving the boundaries of reality, letting her inner child express itself and help the adult in her to get a better grasp of the world, hoping to, in turn, make it a better and more amusing place. Self called Ambassador of the Trees she use her voice to spread the message of love and importance of having deep relationship with nature.

ana salopek

Artists who champion good causes. We work with major progressive brands to communicate their message and align our mutual values by connecting them with diverse, genuine and individual talent.

Artists who champion good causes. We work with major progressive brands to communicate their message and align our mutual values by connecting them with diverse, genuine and individual talent.