

Individual Diverse Global Distinct
Artists who champion good causes

Esther is a cheeky illustrator born in Paris and currently living in London. She graduated in 2016, receiving several awards for her final year film about a boy on a journey of self-discovery. Her love for the craft of animation inspires her to create characters that are full of life and emotional depth, as well as a strong sense of movement. She depicts a world where women, trans, non-binary, people of every race and sexuality can take up more space, and are free to exist without limitations. Esther's work hones in on the things that bind us all together, which is why her work reaches such a varied audience. She has attended the London Illustration Fair and exhibits with the collectif Cluster in London. In 2019 she also led a character design workshop in Hyper Island in Sweden. In her spare time, Esther loves to paint naked women, busting some moves, roller skating and drinking Punch.

esther lalanne

Artists who champion good causes. We work with major progressive brands to communicate their message and align our mutual values by connecting them with diverse, genuine and individual talent.

Artists who champion good causes. We work with major progressive brands to communicate their message and align our mutual values by connecting them with diverse, genuine and individual talent.