Artists who champion good causes

Francesca is an Italian artist with a love of travel. She enjoys both the travel itself and the inspiration she can get by visiting new places or going back home to the countryside. Francesca has been drawing since she was a child, and after high school, she decided to study illustration and animation at the IED Rome.

Francesca mainly works digitally, in Photoshop and Procreate. During her studies, she started illustrating greeting cards for a small Italian company. Now a freelance illustrator, working with various publishing companies and advertising agencies, Francesca is an award-winning illustrator, a member of the Association of Italian Image Authors, and has published several books in Italy and abroad. Although Francesca loves illustrating books, she hopes to gain more work in editorial and advertising. In her free time, Francesca dedicates herself to her passions; food, swimming, books, travel, theatre, and photography. She also loves taking long walks with her dog, Pina, and chatting with her three cats. Francesca enjoys reading as a way to escape from reality and get new inspiration. When working, she enjoys watching a movie or TV show in the background.

Artists who champion good causes. We work with major progressive brands to communicate their message and align our mutual values by connecting them with diverse, genuine and individual talent.
