Artists who champion good causes

Ira is a Ukrainian illustrator and surface designer based in Poland. Inspired by nature, animals, and life's simple joys, she creates warm and cozy illustrations. As an established fine artist, Ira combines traditional and decorative art techniques with digital illustration. In her spare moments, she practices yoga, walks in the woods with her dog, and reads books—sometimes all at once, which leaves her dog both impressed and confused. If she weren't an illustrator, she'd probably be an archaeologist, happily digging for ancient artifacts (and probably still sketching them). Ira looks forward to working on projects in picture books, licensing, and surface design.
