Artists who champion good causes

Katelyn McKenna is an independent Graphic Designer & Illustrator from Greystones, Ireland, currently based in Berlin, Germany. She pursued her education in Visual Communications at the National College of Art & Design (NCAD) in Dublin and has since settled her focus on illustration. Katelyn often embraces a limited color palette and loves to incorporate a storytelling aspect into her work, inviting viewers to step into the narratives she creates. As a proud member of Illustrators Ireland, she is always looking to connect with others in the creative community. When she's not working, you can usually find her somewhere sipping on her second or third cup of coffee of the day or out and about on one of her many walks, dependent on how good the weather in Berlin is, of course.

Artists who champion good causes. We work with major progressive brands to communicate their message and align our mutual values by connecting them with diverse, genuine and individual talent.
