Artists who champion good causes

Hi! I'm Morgan Bissant, a graphic designer and illustrator based in New Orleans, LA. I've always had a deep admiration for anything animated; mediums like cartoons, comics, and anime have been some of my biggest inspirations. Over time, I was recommended for visual art classes, which eventually led me to pursue a career in illustration and design. I earned my BFA in Fine Arts from Louisiana State University, and since then, I've worked as both an illustrator and graphic designer, using my skills to bring ideas to life. I've had the opportunity to provide illustration work for clients like HarperCollins, Comcast, Deseret Book, and Crescent City Sneaker Ball.
