

Individual Diverse Global Distinct Artists who champion good causes

I'm a neurodivergent illustrator & writer from the coastal town of Kochi, India. I grew up in a home full of music, art & books so it was inevitable that I started drawing & writing soon after I learned how to hold a pencil. I devoured books as a child; they helped me to navigate the world around me & feel less alone. I think of making art as a way to document life; what I see, think, feel & consume, overhear & observe. I believe stories are powerful and that everyone deserves to see themselves and their experiences reflected in the world around them. I received my MFA from SVA, New York. I draw digitally & with traditional mediums, and never go anywhere without my sketchbook. When I'm not drawing, I enjoy people-watching, long distance swimming, watching Seinfeld reruns & trying to decide between coffee or matcha.

taarika ravi john

