

wanjira kinyua

Wanjira (Wan-jee-ra) is a freelance illustrator residing in Nairobi. Wanjira graduated from the University of Nairobi with a BA in Design. She began illustrating simply to create beautiful things for fun while she was at college, and she hasn't stopped since. Wanjira finds joy in infusing her digital illustrations with a sense of vibrancy and exploring a diverse array of themes and subjects, particularly the birds and insects that live in her garden. Her recent clients include The New Yorker, AMREF UK, Segal Family Foundation, and Google Doodle, among others.
